Seaside Museum

Located close to the waterfront and overlooking the iconic Pumicestone Passage, this museum celebrates the rich and fascinating history of Bribie Island. Including stories of Bribie Island's important role during World War II

Bribie Island Golf Club

One Saturday in 1969, during the drive home from Caboolture Golf Club after a regular round of golf, Don Mullen, a leading figure in the Bribie Island community at the time, and Bribie's Police Sergeant, Jim Jeppesen asked each other why Bribie did not have a golf club of its own and promptly decided to start one.
